State Boards Begin Review of Election Results---Find Some Returns Missing and Adjourn for Consultation.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 8.—In the presence of legal representatives of both political parties, the board to review the vote on the constitution and the prohibition amendment canvassed the returns from forty-five of the seventy-five counties today. Judge Clayton of McAlester, as chairman, when McIntosh was reached, adjourned for a consultation with Chief Justice Burford and Secretary Filson, other members of the board, over the absence of returns from eleven precincts in seven of the counties reviewed. They were two in Adair, three in Creek and two in Harper and one each in Haskell, Kiowa, Latimer and LeFlore counties. At the outset the board stated that abstracts on file would be accepted as representing the vote cast. Only in one instance that of a LeFlore county precinct, where no election was held on Sept. 17, did the county clerk explain why the vote of any precinct was missing from the records. That the board understands it possesses authority to demand the votes of all precincts day that he would ask the board to recommend a general congressional investigation of the alleged frauds in all counties where charged, and that he is prepared to furnish ample evidence as to their existence.

As far as the canvass has gone the constitution shows a majority greater than was expected. There were approximately 145,000 votes cast in the forty-five counties, about 105,000 of which were for the document.

State Chairman Thompson of the democratic committee states that about 240,000 votes were cast and that the constitution will show a majority between 90,000 and 100,000.

The vote shows the constitution to have received the closest call in Logan county, which contains the Territorial capital, the majority here being but 88. Of the counties reviewed Caddo furnished 3,081 majority, which is the largest. Grady is next with 2,900.

The prohibition vote is running near even, the counties of Craig (Vinita), Carter, (Ardmore), Coal (Lehigh),

Touching the M. O. & G.

Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 9.—C. D. Hamilton has resigned the position of general superintendent of the Oklahoma Central, to take charge of the construction work on the Missouri, Oklahoma & Gulf, which is building southward from Muskogee toward Sherman, Tex. Seven steam shovels are being used in the construction. It is stated that the company, building the road, will complete and operate it for seven years, and then turn it over to the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific. President William Kenefic of the M. O. & G. recently returned from England where he disposed of the road's bonds.

SALOON MEN MAY FIGHT.

Persistent Rumor Says Injunction Route Will Be Tried.

There is a reliable rumor to the effect that the liquor men of Oklahoma will not tamely submit to the abolition of their business by the passage of the prohibition ordinance at the recent election.

There is a probability that they will try to secure an injunction against the enforcement of prohibition when statehood is proclaimed.

As evidence of this scheme, directly after the election, it is said the breweries refused to send extensive shipments into Oklahoma, whereas now they are soliciting trade, and leading saloon men are letting drop intimations that they may continue in business longer than the public expects. It is well known that liquor interests have profited by seeking the injunction route. For example in Grayson county, Texas, when local option first carried, by means of injunction pend-forcement of the law was postponed nearly a year.

It is said this plan of the liquor interests has no designs against the state constitution, but simply attacks the prohibition ordinance.

not shows in the official reports and to determine what course it should pursue, was given as the reason for the abrupt adjournment in the midst of the count. Should the board go to the limits of its power, it is expected that certification of the vote on the constitution might be delayed for ten days or two weeks, if not longer. A decision will be announced tomorrow.

The board to canvass returns on the state and district tickets organized, but got no farther than the arrangements. As Secretary Filson is a member of each, the sessions were alternated today, but unless a conclusion averse to the present program is reached by the first board the constitution and prohibition canvass can be completed in two hours' time. It is intimated tonight that the abstracts from Muskogee and Okmulgee counties, where various irregularities are alleged by republicans will be challenged when they are reached in each canvass.

Charles E. Hunter, chairman of the republican state committee, stated to-

Johnson (Tishomingo), Latimer (Wilburton), Logan (Guthrie) and Creek (Sapulpa) gave majorities against prohibition.

Watching the work of both canvassing boards for the democratic committee are W. A. Ledbetter of Ardmore, J. F. King of Newkirk and State Chairman Thompson. For the republican committee are Judge T. N. Robnett of Ardmore, James Cottingham of Guthrie and State Chairman Hunter.

Miss Case Critically Ill.

AN UNBIASED CRITICISM.

The following from Collier's Weekly is a fair example of how unbiased criticism the country over regard the cause of statehood for Oklahoma and the conduct of the democratic party, those who sneer at the constitution and attempt to ridicule the dominant party are either rabid partisans or in sympathy with the "interests":

"Notwithstanding the urgent advice of Secretary Taft to reject their constitution and take their chances of coming into the union at some time in the indefinite future, the people of Oklahoma decided on September 17 that they would come in at once. They ratified the constitution by a majority of about sixty thousand, adopted state prohibition by some thirty thousand, elected a democratic governor by about the same figure, along with the entire democratic state ticket, chose a democratic legislature which will name two United States senators of that party, and elected four out of five democratic representatives in congress.

"The complaint that the constitutional convention had gerrymandered the state in the democratic interest seems to have had little foundation. If the votes had been distributed with absolute uniformity there would have been a democratic majority of about five thousands in every congressional district. The fact that the republicans were able to elect at least one congressman indicates that they had little to complain of except lack of votes. With returns in from all the counties but eight, the republican candidate for governor, Frantz, with all his popularity and the strength of the federal and territorial administrations to back him, was found to have carried only eleven, while Haskell, the democratic candidate, carried fifty-six.

"Although Oklahoma, like Arizona, has seriously disappointed the administration by perverting its reason to fear an attempt to punish the new state by keeping it out of the union. The special census taken just before the election showed a population of nearly 1,500,000, by far the largest that any state ever possessed on its admission. In fact Oklahoma, is more populous than the last seven states admitted—Utah, Idaho, Wyoming, Washington, Montana and the Dakotas—all put together, when they came into the union. There are at least twenty states that rank behind her now. Of the sovereign powers of the world, claiming the right to equal representation with the United States and the British Empire at The Hague, twelve have fewer inhabitants than Oklahoma. Nineteen powers are below her in area and natural resources. In such circumstances even the dark probability that she will cast seven electoral votes for the democratic candidates in next year's presidential election can hardly be considered sufficient ground for keeping her in the Territorial infant class any longer."

RAIN SAVES BEAR.

Canebrakes Too Wet for Presidential Party.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 8.—Secretary Latta returned today from his visit to President Roosevelt in his camp on the Tensas river, bringing with him a batch of newly dictated letters and recollections of a very wet night spent in camp. He says that yesterday's rain was even more than was bargained for, and that while the first effect was to put the woods in good condition, they became so wet by 2 o'clock the party was compelled to return to camp.

The rain which had begun early in the day, continued through out the night, and it was decided not to venture out at all today, owing to the water in the canebrake in which they are hunting.

No one has yet sighted a bear, but the dogs found a trail yesterday and the professional hunters expressed the belief, from the sound, that the baying meant they had located a bear. It was dark, however, and it became necessary to call the hunt off.

The president puts in much of his time when not engaged in the hunt in reading and in conversation with his associates and the guides and hunters who accompany them. Another deer was shot yesterday.

Negro Shot and Killed.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 9.—Ed James, a negro, was shot and killed four miles west of Wagoner, I. T., yesterday for having made, it is claimed, insulting remarks to the daughter of a farmer. It is claimed that the father of the girl was shot at by the negro and that he was killed with a shotgun.

A. P. Ingram was arrested and brought here tonight.

NOT TILL AFTER INAUGURATION.

Then Gov. Haskell Will Announce Appointments—Many Applicants.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 9.—Gov.-Elect Haskell has announced that no appointments for the contemplated new state government will be made until after his inauguration, which, under present belief, should be not later than the middle of November. The only place given the governor for appointment by the constitution is the state bank examiner. The organization of his office, however, necessitates a private secretary, and it is expected this will be the first place filled. In addition, it is understood, the governor will possess authority to name heads of departments carried to the new state organization by the present Territorial laws, without waiting for legislative action. These include chief of the school land department, oil inspector, Adjutant general, and secretary of the live stock board.

A number of applications have been prepared for appointment as agents for sale of liquors for medical purposes and alcohol for industrial purposes under the prohibition law. Constitutional prohibition provides that the legislature may provide for one such agency, under supervision of the state, in each incorporated town of not less than 2,000 population and one in each county where there is no such town. It is figured this will mean about 100 agents not contemplated in the ordinary state government. It is conceded that these appointments will be given to the governor.

The belief is clerkships of various departments will be filled by the chiefs thereof. Elective officers, such as treasurer, attorney general, etc., will make their own appointments as soon as it is known what forces they are to have. In one or two instances chief clerks or assistants of the divisions have already been announced. As far as the governor is concerned, it is known by authority that no selections have been made; on the contrary, applicants informed the matter would not be determined until there was some basis for doing so. It is said 200 applications for positions are on file.

Dr. E. G. Newell of Yale, Ok., member of the constitutional convention from that place, is an applicant for superintendent of the Insane Asylum to be located at old Fort Supply. Dr. Newell was a member of the democratic campaign committee. Prior to coming to Oklahoma he was connected with the Missouri Insane Asylum at Nevada, that state.

Some Gossip From National Capital.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Under Mr. Garfield's administration of the interior department public men are not to be crushed or humiliated by indictments for land frauds just for the fun of the thing or to satisfy a grievance of some politician. This policy is in striking contrast to that of former Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock, who permitted his sleuths to indict public men right and left only to force most of them to prove themselves innocent at a trial later on. When Mr. Garfield succeeded Hitchcock the government sleuths thought that there would be no change in policy in that regard. In fact they had prepared to go all former efforts in that direction one better, expecting that it would please the new head of the interior department. But they have found out now that the secretary of the interior only wants the people indicted who "have the goods on," and that the humiliation business to satisfy a political grievance must cease.

Judge Thomas Ryan of Kansas has no complaint over the treatment Uncle Sam has given his family. The judge has been assistant secretary of the interior since 1897, and if he relinquishes the job any way soon it will be on account of his health. He will be given another government job where the work is lighter. His son Fred Ryan, is a lieutenant in the regular army. This fixes an easy berth for him for life. Another son, Ed Ryan, has just been appointed to a lucrative place in the Indian Territory.

It is the opinion of Oklahoma Republican leaders that Governor Frantz will be given a position in the regular army when he retires from his present position. Frantz is inclined to the military, and the president who has decided to take care of him, may name him paymaster of the army.

One of the factors which induced President Roosevelt to give out advanced information that he proposed to approve the Oklahoma constitution was the fight the Anti-Saloon League of America was framing up in the interests of the constitution. The Anti-Saloon League is one of the most potent political factors in the country today. Its members are not very enthusiastic for Taft for president on account of his views in favor of the army canteen. It is about all the administration can do now to keep the league members from openly making a fight against Taft. Had the Oklahoma constitution been turned down with its state-wide prohibition clause, the members of the league would have simply put out the ropes and made a bold stand against Taft for the nomination, and, if nominated, they would oppose him at the polls.

In addition to the tremendous responsibilities which rest upon him as secretary of the interior, "Jimmy" Garfield has taken on another duty, not of an official character, however. He is the book censor of President Roosevelt. He tells the president what to read and what not to read. Whenever a new book reaches the president, he turns it over to Garfield to read and pass judgment upon. He is too busy, himself, to spend his time reading books with no merit. When he does read a book he wants to know in advance that it is worth his while. Some time ago he discovered that Garfield's tastes for literature ran along the same lines as his, and so he made the Ohio member of his tennis cabinet his book censor right on the spot. Since then Garfield has gone through all the new publications, including those referred to him by the president, and when he finds a book that strikes his fancy he sends it up to the White House with orders for the president to read it.

When asked about his new position the other day, Secretary Garfield smiled and said that the president often referred books to him for reading, but that he didn't care to take on the title of book censor for the administration. "The president although a busy man, devotes much time to books," said Mr. Garfield, "and he always wants to read the best and discard those which contain no merit."

County Clerk's Joke.

An election echo from the Arapaho Bee:

William B. Walker, the democratic county clerk, put up a nice little joke on the election inspectors, most of whom were republicans. He sent them a package marked "sample ballots," and Pat Gleason is supposed to have cautioned each of them to be exceedingly careful with this package. This the inspector did with great ceremony Tuesday morning before a good audience to see that it was done fairly. Before this audience out rolled pictures of Haskell, "Vote for the constitution," "Stay with true democracy," and such phrases.

Helped to Start First Weekly.

The New State Tribune says: An interesting communication has been received from Mr. S. W. Robertson of Rochester, N. H. Mr. Robertson formerly lived in this part of the territory and is familiar with the happenings of the earlier days. He says: "When a 14-year-old boy, at Tullahassee Mission, I printed on a small hand press the circular announcing the starting of the Indian Journal, the first paper printed in Muskogee and I believe, the first weekly published in the Creek nation. Our Monthly, had been issued from the Tullahassee press for two or three years previously. I also distributed into the cases the first font of type used for the aforementioned Journal, and I have always regretted that I did not set the first 'stick' as I might have done. What changes from the Muskogee of that day!"

Crenona or Stradivarius?

This is from the El Reno American: The old violin, "Pioneer," formerly owned by George Keller, was sold yesterday by the Bunch Music company to John Curtis at a consideration of $100.

This violin is supposed to be more than 100 years old. It was brought to America by a traveling Italian musician who landed at Mexico City about 1822 and organized probably the first class in violin instruction on the American continent. Later he came to Texas, near or at San Antonio. Here he engaged in a quarrel with a fellow countryman over a woman, at a ball given at the fort, and nothing more was ever heard of him. It was thought he was murdered, or murdered his opponent, as both mysteriously disappeared.

Mr. Keller, then being a fort employee of the Texas government, he bought the trunk and baggage of the Italian from the fort officials, and among them the now famous old violin. The old violin has been played in all, or nearly all, the frontier towns of the Southwest.

Need Any Cocklebur Seed?

The city of Arapaho gives the following public notice to Bill Murray of "cocklebur" fame:

The city has about two bushels of fine cocklebur seed for sale. This seed has been raised on the rich soil, fertilized by Mrs. Miller's wash water, on the lot between Crisp's and the Miller property on Main street. These cockleburs have been carefully selected, and no one has been allowed to disturb them all summer. The city will sell the same breed of burs that made Bill Murray famous. Our city marshal is to be congratulated on the care he has taken to bring these burs to maturity. Those wanting seed call or address mayor, city treasurer or city marshal. These burs are known as the invisible variety. A man with a scythe can walk through forty acres of them and never see them. They are especially adapted to city growing, as a weed commissioner or officer of the city will never seeing them, if growing in the streets and alleys. Any farmer can see them. They have fine prickly burs as big as your thumb.

Grand Leader Grateful.

The occasion of the opening of our store was all that we could ask. The attendance was splendid, and we believe that those who visited us were pleased with the display, the quality, and the prices.

We want to thank all especially the ladies, for their presence and interest otherwise manifested during the opening, and we want to assure them that we intend to at all times keep our store thoroughly stocked with the very best qualities at prices to please.

Especially do we propose to keep in the lead in the latest style millinery. We received many compliments because of our millinery display, and we intend to continue to merit such expressions of praise.

We have in stock the largest line of boys and men's clothing ever shown in Ada, and we can please anybody in style, quality and price. Look through our clothing when you visit our store.

Since our formal opening, we have received a car load of additional goods which add much to our variety and quantity. It will be to your interest to call and inspect this last shipment.

Assuring all, that you are always welcome at our store, either as purchasers or inspectors, we beg to remain yours, respectfully.

How the Western Union Acts.

Mrs. Sherwood W. Hill received a telegram this morning announcing the death of the little child of her sister, Mrs. C. C. Wightman, who resides in Albany, Ga. This death message was sent by the telegraph company by mail, thereby attesting its disposition to impose upon the public whenever possible. Unless the service is improved, it must be hoped that the late suit instituted by the territory of Oklahoma asking for the ousting of the company from the state be successful. Each day the public is becoming more sympathetic with the strikers.

Akron Tourists Took Long Trip.

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch.
Uniontown, Pa.—On a record trip of 11,000 miles by automobile, which is nearing completion, F. W. Work and J. C. Maxson of Akron, O., arrived here early Saturday morning and left after breakfast for Hagerstown, Md., on their way to New York in a 25-horse power automobile. Leaving New York June 20 they traveled via Chicago, Denver and Salt Lake City to San Francisco, reaching there August 1. On August 20 they left San Francisco and went through Southern California, New Mexico and Arizona, and to the Grand canyon, then to St. Louis, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky Ohio and Pennsylvania. They expect to reach Akron about October 1.

They have traveled over roads where automobiles had never before penetrated and sections where the inhabitants had never seen or heard of the "big red devils." Although they found bad roads in the Rocky mountain states the worst encountered were in Southern Kentucky.

Clock Made of Straw.

An extraordinary addition has been made to the exhibition of inventions now being held in Berlin. A shoemaker named Wegner, living in Strasburg sent in a clock of the grandfather shape, nearly six feet high, made entirely of straw. The wheels, pointers, case and every detail are exclusively of straw. Wegner has taken fifteen years to construct this strange piece of mechanism. It keeps perfect time, a Berlin report says.

"And no doubt," we say to our friend, the candidate, "you will make an especial appeal for votes by sympathizing with the man with patches on his garments?" "No," he responded with a knowing wink, "I shall make a ten-strike by voicing my undying sympathy with the men who can't get their clothes patched."

Parasol Sleeve.

It is in the realm of the tailor-made that the spirit of change has been most active in the way of sleeves. Some of the latest innovations can hardly be termed artistic notably the sleeve which commences nearly in the center of the back, giving the back breadth of the coat a narrowing appearance, which almost amounts to deformity.

Quite in opposition to this is the little "umbrella" sleeve, of which, instead of springing from an immense armhole, like the better known type of "manche," has quite a narrow beginning and widens at the elbow to the circumference of a yard and a half. This is covered from the top to the hem with a tiny frills of lace, recalling in a quaint manner the trimming on the minute-hinged parasol of the crinoline days.

Newspaper at Lhassa.

The first newspaper ever printed in the Tibetan language has been started at Lhassa. Its title in translation will mean the Tibet Times. Since the visit of the English expeditions the grand lama has been busily engaged in reforms, some of which include lecture and reading rooms, where the people can be educated in the geography, history and industrial conditions of Tibet. The Tibetan government considers that the ignorance of the people constitutes a hindrance to carrying out the reorganization of the administration.

The Lady and the Dimple.

She must have it. It makes for youthfulness. There's also a sparkle about it. Some reckless ones go in for three. In Paris your chin is dimpled while you wait.

A mere slit, and the cutting of a muscle, and there you are.

A certain charmer recently slipped and a sharp stone cut her chin. She feared she'd be disfigured for life. When the wound had healed she found herself with the "cutest" dimple.

Dogs Size of Rats.

If there should be a further boom in the toy dog pet craze the Western Australia desert should prove as small El Dorado. In the course of an expedition to look for a practical stock route between the northern pastoral lands and the central gold fields a party found large numbers of a tiny animal of the dog tribe, no bigger than a rat. The natives eat it greedily.

SCIENTISTS STUDY BUTTERMILK.

German Experts Agree That It Postpones Bodily Decay.

From the Chicago News.

Berlin—German medical circles are discussing the investigations made by Dr. Ludwig Reinhardt, the noted Austrian hygienist, of the theory that curdled sour milk prepared under certain conditions is not only a sovereign cure for digestive maladies, but a veritable elixir of life. Prof. Hermann Strauss of the University of Berlin, and Prof. Metchnikoff, the noted French bacteriologist, who attended the recent hygienic congress here, are among those who deem the subject of importance. Prof. Metchnikoff's investigations along this same line are well known.

Dr. Reinhardt declares that the use of milk which, after being slowly heated to a certain temperature, is allowed to become thick and sour will prolong life materially if taken regularly. He instances the fact that many Bulgarians who use this food though dwelling under the most unsanitary conditions, live beyond 100 years.

"It is a fact," said Prof. Metchnikoff, before leaving for Paris recently, "that the Bulgarians reach a high average age and that among them there is a large percentage of centenarians. This is doubtless ascribable in part to their habitual use of the soured milk preparation, which contains a large number of bacteria."

"Among these I have succeeded in isolating one bacillus which is especially effective in cleansing the system from impurities. I believe that a future time is likely to see the use of a beverage in this form become widespread."

Prof. Strauss also asserts that milk curdled after the Bulgarian fashion has a wholesome influence in postponing bodily decay, the beneficial microorganisms therein destroying the microbes which increase the susceptibility to disease.

All Good Citizens Will Accept Situation and Boost With a Will.

It is well that the public settle down to the fact that the new state craft is to be manned by a Haskell crew.

And it behooves every loyal Oklahoman to make up his mind to lend a helping hand at every opportunity and turn in the upbuilding and growth of the Nonpareil state.

Governor Haskell is a man of wonderful executive ability, and, with his business experience, he has in him the attributes of one who can give to Oklahoma a good and wise government.

This the State Capital believes, and so long as he and his followers give evidence of the "fair deal" in handling state affairs this paper will applaud and in every way possible lend the helping hand.

The time for bickering and strife has passed:—

We will soon be citizens of one of the great states of the union. The change from territory to state has been in the past history of such events a great leap, but not so will it be with Oklahoma.

Today Oklahoma has a greater population than the census gives to twenty-three states of the union.

Her splendid cities, magnificent railroad system, great agricultural industry, inexhaustible wealth of earth's rich treasures, and, in fact, all that which goes to make up a great state, place Oklahoma—

At once—
Among the important states of the Union.

This is no idle boast, it is stern reality.

And being such no citizen possessed of pride equal to the occasion will longer indulge in complaint or useless criticism.

We should from this time henceforth be as one man—
With one idea as a nucleus from which to work.

And that one idea should be—
Oklahoma and Oklahoma's upbuilding—Guthrie State Capital.

From the tone of the State Capital three weeks ago, one would scarcely expect to find such sentiments expressed in that paper at so early a day and before the smoke had been blown away.

We welcome the strong evidence of returning sanity in the State Capital, and sincerely trust it will, from now on, set the example for the policy indicated in the above editorial.—Muskogee Times-Democrat.

Leisure Not Pleasant.

Lord Brampton, formerly the famous criminal judge, Sir Henry Hawkins, the man who presided over the famous Tichbourne case and who later tried and sentenced Mrs. Maybrick, was very severe on the bench, and was known among criminals as "the hanging judge." He probably donned the fearful black cap more than any man of his time. He has just retired on a pension at the age of 90 years. He says of his old age, "There are very few compensations in old age. Leisure is not pleasant. It fills me with regret that I am no longer able to take active part in the life of the world."

Shirtwaist Styles.

There is no one style of shirt waists that is fashionable. There are many varying styles, all of which are in vogue. The most popular ones, however, are designed along the tailored lines. The round yoke is shown on a number of the new models.

Defenders of Switzerland.

The report of the party who went from this country to study the military system of Switzerland will doubtless be unanimous on one point—that we have much to learn from the little republic, says the London Court Journal. From the age of 10 all boys go through a compulsory physical and gymnastic course until they are 16 and after this age for four years they have to take up rifle shooting in addition to gymnastic training. Every Swiss from his 20th to his 44th year is liable to military training. Every useful work is accomplished in Switzerland by rifle clubs, which are encouraged by the state for the purpose of improving marksmanship. The population is under 3,500,000 yet there are 3,500 such associations with over 200,000 members. On this basis we should have over 2,500,000 members of rifle clubs instead of only 60,000.

The Styrian Cigarette Lighter.

For lighting their cigarettes the native population of Turkey uses a kind of fuse manufactured in Styria, in Austria. It consists of brown paper impregnated with saltpeter, each strip of which is perforated so that it may be torn easily into small slips and is provided with a match head. About $30,000 worth is imported each year.

An Improved Eye.

Guests were expected to supper that night.

And the table with dainties was set. On the sideboard a dish of beautiful fruit.

Gave the promise of more to come yet.

A wee little girl came tiptoeing in. Looked around with admiring eyes. And seeing the fruit, she could not resist.

"Just an apple," then off with her prize.

But she soon returned and in her hand

Was the apple unbitting and red.

"Fooled again, Mr. Satan! You shan't have me."

But I wanted it awful," she said.

THEY CANVASS 45 COUNTIES

State Boards Begin Review of Election Results---Find Some Returns Missing and Adjourn for Consultation.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 8.—In the presence of legal representatives of both political parties the board to review the vote on the constitution and the prohibition amendment canvassed the returns from forty-five of the seventy-five counties today. Judge Clayton of McAlester, as chairman, when McIntosh was reached adjourned for a consultation with Chief Justice Burford and Secretary Wilson. Other members of the board over the absence of returns from eleven precincts in seven of the counties reviewed. They were two in Adair, three in Creek and two in Harper and one each in Haskell, Kiowa, LeFlore and LeFlore counties. At this point the board adjourned until next morning, the vote being accepted in all precincts. Only in one instance that of a LeFlore county precinct where no election was held on Sept. 1, did the county clerk explain why the vote of a precinct was missing from the records. That the board understood it possesses authority to demand the votes of all precincts.

day that he would ask the board to recommend a general congressional investigation of the alleged frauds in all counties where charged and that he is prepared to furnish ample evidence as to their existence.

As far as the canvass has gone the constitution shows a majority greater than was expected. There were approximately 14,000 votes cast in the forty-five counties about 10,000 of which were for the document.

State Chairman Thompson, of the democratic committee states that about 240,000 votes were cast and that the constitution will show a majority of between 100,000 and 100,000.

The vote shows the constitution to have received the closest call in Logan county, which contains the territorial capital, the majority here being 1,115. Of the counties reviewed, Custer furnished 1,087 majority, which is the largest. Custer is next with 2,900.

The prohibition vote is running as follows: Custer (Admiral), Cord (Lehigh) not shows in the official reports and to determine what course it should pursue was given as the reason for the abrupt adjournment in the midst of the count. Should the board go to the limits of its power it is expected that certification of the vote on the constitution might be delayed for ten days or two weeks if not longer. A decision will be announced tomorrow.

The board to canvass returns on the state and district tickets organized but go no further than the arrangements. As Secretary Wilson is a member of each the sessions were alternated to day but unless a conclusion adverse to the present program is reached by the first board the constitution and prohibition canvass can be completed in two hours time. It is intimated tonight that the abstracts from Muskogee and Okmulgee counties, where various irregularities are alleged by republicans will be challenged when they are reached in each canvass.

Charles E. Hunter, chairman of the republican state committee, stated to-

Johnson (Tishomingo), Latimer (Wilburton), Logan (Guthrie) and Creek (Sapulpa) gave majorities against prohibition.

Watching the work of both canvassing boards for the democratic committee are W. A. Ledbetter of Ardmore, J. P. King of Newkirk and State Chairman Thompson. For the republican committee are Judge T. N. Robnett of Ardmore, James Cottingham of Guthrie and State Chairman Hunter.

Persistent Rumor Says Injunction Route Will Be Tried.

There is a tellable rumor to the effect that the liquor men of Oklahoma will not tamely submit to the abolition of their business by the passage of the prohibition ordinance at the recent election.

There is a probability that they will try to secure an injunction against the enforcement of prohibition when statehood is proclaimed.

As evidence of this scheme directly after the election it is said the breweries refused to send extensive shipments into Oklahoma, whereas now they are soliciting trade, and leading saloon men are letting drop intimations that they may continue in business longer than the public expects. It is well known that liquor interests have profited by seeking the injunction route. For example in Grayson county, Texas, when local option first carried, by means of injunction pend-forcement of the law was postponed nearly a year.

It is said this plan of the liquor interests has no designs against the state constitution but simply attacks the prohibition ordinance.

AN UNBIASED CRITICISM.

The following from Collier's Weekly is a fair example of how unbiased critics the country over regard the cause of statehood for Oklahoma and the conduct of the democratic party, those who sneer at the constitution and attempt to ridicule the dominant party are either rabid partisans or in sympathy with the "interests".

"Notwithstanding the urgent advice of Secretary Taft to reject their constitution and take their chances of coming into the union at some time in the indefinite future, the people of Oklahoma decided on September 17 that they would come in at once. They ratified the constitution by a majority of about sixty thousand, adopted state prohibition by some thirty thousand, elected a democratic governor by about the same figure, along with the entire democratic state ticket, chose a democratic legislature which will name two United States senators of that party, and elected four out of five democratic representatives in congress.

"The complaint that the constitutional convention had gerrymandered the state in the democratic interest seems to have had little foundation. If the votes had been distributed with absolute uniformity there would have been a democratic majority of about five thousands in every congressional district. The fact that the republicans were able to elect at least one congressman indicates that they had little to complain of except lack of votes. With returns in from all the counties but eight, the republican candidate for governor, Frantz, with all his popularity and the strength of the federal and territorial administrations to back him, was found to have carried only eleven, while Haskell, the democratic candidate, carried fifty-six.

"Although Oklahoma, like Arizona, has seriously disappointed the administration by perverting its paternal advice, here seems no reason to fear an attempt to punish the new state by keeping it out of the union. The special census taken just before the election showed a population of nearly 1,500,000, by far the largest that any state ever possessed on its admission. In fact Oklahoma is more populous than the last seven states admitted—Utah, Idaho, Wyoming, Washington, Montana and the Dakotas—very all put together, when they came into the union. There are at least twenty states that rank behind her now. Of the sovereign powers of the world, claiming the right to equal representation with the United States and the British Empire at The Hague, twelve have fewer inhabitants than Oklahoma. Nineteen powers are below her in area and natural resources. In such circumstances even the dark probability that she will cast seven electoral votes for the democratic candidates in next year's presidential election can hardly be considered sufficient ground for keeping her in the Territorial infant class any longer."

RAIN SAVES BEAR.

Canebrakes Too Wet for Presidential Party.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 8.—Secretary Latta returned today from his visit to President Roosevelt in his camp on the Texas river, bringing with him a batch of newly dictated letters and recollections of a very wet night spent in camp. He says that yesterday's rain was even more than was bargained for, and that while the first effect was to put the woods in good condition, they became so wet by 2 o'clock the party was compelled to return to camp.

The rain which had begun early in the day, continued through out the night, and it was decided not to venture out at all today, owing to the water in the canebrake in which they are hunting.

No one has yet sighted a bear, but the dogs found a trail yesterday and the professional hunters expressed the belief, from the sound, that the baying meant they had located a bear. It was dark, however, and it became necessary to call the hunt off.

The president puts in much of his time when not engaged in the hunt in reading and in conversation with his associates and the guides and hunters who accompany them. Another deer was shot yesterday.

Negro Shot and Killed.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 9.—Ed James, a negro, was shot and killed four miles west of Wagoner, I. T., yesterday for having made, it is claimed, insulting remarks to the daughter of a farmer. It is claimed that the father of the girl was shot at by the negro and that he was killed with a shotgun.

A. F. Ingram was arrested and brought here tonight.

NOT TILL AFTER INAUGURATION.

Then Gov. Haskell Will Announce Appointments—Many Applicants.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 9.—Gov. Elect Haskell has announced that no appointments for the contemplated new state government will be made until after his inauguration, which, under present belief, should be not later than the middle of November. The only place given the governor for appointment by the constitution is the state bank examiner. The organization of his office, however, necessitates a private secretary, and it is expected this will be the first place filled. In addition, it is understood, the governor will possess authority to name heads of departments carried to the new state organization by the present Territorial laws, without waiting for legislative action. These include chief of the school land department, oil inspector, Adjutant general, and secretary of the live stock board.

A number of applications have been prepared for appointment as agents for sale of liquors for medical purposes and alcohol for industrial purposes under the prohibition law. Constitutional prohibition provides that the legislature may provide for one such agency, under supervision of the state, in each incorporated town of not less than 2,000 population and one in each county where there is no such town. It is figured this will mean about 100 agents not contemplated in the ordinary state government. It is conceded that these appointments will be given to the governor.

The belief is clerkships of various departments will be filled by the chiefs thereof. Elective officers, such as treasurer, attorney general, etc., will make their own appointments as soon as it is known what forces they are to have. In one or two instances chief clerks or assistants of the divisions have already been announced. As far as the governor is concerned, it is known by authority that no selections have been made; on the contrary, applicants informed the matter would not be determined until there was some basis for doing so. It is said 200 applications for positions are on file.

Dr. E. G. Newell of Yale, Ok., member of the constitutional convention from that place, is an applicant for superintendent of the Insane Asylum to be located at old Fort Supply. Dr. Newell was a member of the democratic campaign committee. Prior to coming to Oklahoma he was connected with the Missouri Insane Asylum at Nevada, that state.

Some Gossip From National Capital.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Under Mr. Garfield's administration of the interior department public men are not to be crushed or humiliated by indictments for land frauds just for the fun of the thing or to satisfy a grievance of some politician. This policy is in striking contrast to that of former Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock, who permitted his sleuths to indict public men right and left only to force most of them to prove themselves innocent at a trial later on. When Mr. Garfield succeeded Hitchcock the government sleuths thought that there would be no change in policy in that regard. In fact they had prepared to go all former efforts in that direction one better, expecting that it would please the new head of the interior department. But they have found out now that the secretary of the interior only wants the people indicted who "have the goods on," and that the humiliation business to satisfy a political grievance must cease.

Judge Thomas Ryan of Kansas has no complaint over the treatment Uncle Sam has given his family. The judge has been assistant secretary of the interior since 1897, and if he relinquishes the job any way soon it will be on account of his health. He will be given another government job where the work is lighter. His son Fred Ryan, is a lieutenant in the regular army. This fixes an easy berth for him for life. Another son, Ed Ryan, has just been appointed to a lucrative place in the Indian Territory.

It is the opinion of Oklahoma Republican leaders that Governor Frantz will be given a position in the regular army when he retires from his present position. Frantz is inclined to the military, and the president who has decided to take care of him, may name him paymaster of the army.

One of the factors which induced President Roosevelt to give out advanced information that he proposed to approve the Oklahoma constitution was the fight the Anti-Saloon League of America was waging up in the interests of the constitution. The Anti-Saloon League is one of the most potent political factors in the country today. Its members are not very enthusiastic for Taft for president on account of his views in favor of the army cantonment. It is about all the administration can do now to keep the league members from openly making a fight against Taft. Had the Oklahoma constitution been turned down with its state-wide prohibition clause, the members of the league would have ply out the ropes and made a bold stand against Taft for the nomination, and, if nominated, they would oppose him at the polls.

In addition to the tremendous responsibilities which rest upon him as secretary of the interior, "Jimmy" Garfield has taken on another duty, not of an official character, however. He is the book censor of President Roosevelt. He tells the president what to read and what not to read. Whenever a new book reaches the president, he turns it over to Garfield to read and pass judgment upon. He is too busy, himself, to spend his time reading books with no merit. When he does read a book he wants to know in advance that it is worth his while. Some time ago he discovered that Garfield's tastes for literature ran along the same lines as his, and so he made the Ohio member of his tennis cabinet his book censor right on the spot. Since then Garfield has gone through all the new publications, including those referred to him by the president, and when he finds a book that strikes his fancy he sends it up to the White House with orders for the president to read it.

When asked about his new position the other day, Secretary Garfield smiled and said that the president often referred books to him for reading, but that he didn't care to take on the title of book censor for the administration. "The president although a busy man, devotes much time to books," said Mr. Garfield, "and he always wants to read the best and discard those which contain no merit."

County Clerk's Joke.

An election echo from the Arapaho:

William B. Walker, the democratic county clerk, put up a nice little joke on the election inspectors, most of whom were republicans. He sent them a package marked "sample ballots," and Pat Gleason is supposed to have cautioned each of them to be exceedingly careful with this package. This the inspector did with great ceremony Tuesday morning before a good audience to see that it was done fairly. Before this audience out rolled pictures of Haskell, "Vote for the constitution," "Stay with true democracy," and such phrases.

Helped to Start First Weekly.

The New State Tribune says: An interesting communication has been received from Mr. S. W. Robertson of Rochester, N. H. Mr. Robertson formerly lived in this part of the territory and is familiar with the happenings of the earlier days. He says: "When a 14-year-old boy, at Tullahassee Mission, I printed on a small hand press the circular announcing the starting of the Indian Magazine, the first paper printed in Muskogee and I believe, the first weekly published in the Creek nation. Our Monthly, had been issued from the Tullahassee press for two or three years previously. I also distributed into the cases the first front of type used for the aforementioned Journal, and I have always regretted that I did not set the first 'stick' as I might have done. What changes from the Muskogee of that day!"

Cremosa or Stradivarius?

This is from the El Reno American: The old violin, "Pioneer," formerly owned by George Keller, was sold yesterday by the Bunch Music company to John Curtis at a consideration of $100.

This violin is supposed to be more than 100 years old. It was brought to America by a traveling Italian musician who landed at Mexico City about 1822 and organized probably the first class in violin instruction on the American continent. Later he came to Texas, near or at San Antonio. Here he engaged in a quarrel with a fellow countryman over a woman, at a ball given at the fort, and nothing more was ever heard of him. It was thought he was murdered, or murdered his opponent, as both mysteriously disappeared.

Mr. Keller, then being a fort employee of the Texas government, he bought the trunk and baggage of the Italian from the fort officials, and among them the now famous old violin. The old violin has been played in all, or nearly all, the frontier towns of the Southwest.

Need Any Cocklebur Seed?

The city of Arapaho gives the following public notice to Bill Murray of "cocklebur" fame:

The city has about two bushels of fine cocklebur seed for sale. This seed has been raised on the rich soil, fertilized by Mrs. Miller's wash water, on the lot between Crisp's and the Miller property on Main street. These cockleburs have been carefully selected, and no one has been allowed to disturb them all summer. The city will sell the same breed of burs that made Bill Murray famous. Our city marshal is to be congratulated on the care he has taken to bring these burs to maturity.

Those wanting seed call or address mayor, city treasurer or city marshal. These burs are known as the inviolable variety. A man with a scythe can walk through forty acres of them and never see them. They are especially adapted to city growing, as a weed commissioner or officer of the city will never seeing them, if growing in the streets and alleys. Any farmer can see them. They have fine prickly burs as big as your thumb.

Akron Tourists Took Long Trip.

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch
Uniontown, Pa.—On a record trip of 11,000 miles by automobile which is nearing completion F. W. Work and J. C. Maxson of Akron, O. arrived here early Saturday morning and left after breakfast for Uniontown, Md. on their way to New York in a 25 horse power automobile. Leaving New York June 20 they traveled via Chicago, Denver and Salt Lake City to San Francisco reaching there August 1. On August 20 they left San Francisco and went through Southern California, New Mexico and Arizona and to the Grand Canyon then to St. Louis, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Pennsylvania. They expect to reach Akron about October 1.

They have traveled over roads where automobiles had never before penetrated and sections where the inhabitants had never seen or heard of the big red devils. Although they found bad roads in the Rocky mountain states the worst encountered were in Southern Kentucky.

Clock Made of Straw.

An extraordinary addition has been made to the exhibition of inventions new being held in Berlin. A shoemaker named Wegner living in Strasburg sent in a clock of the grandfather shape nearly six feet high made entirely of straw. The wheels, pointers, case and even detail are exclusively of straw. Wegner has taken fifteen years to construct this strange piece of mechanism. It keeps perfect time. A Berlin report says:

"And no doubt we say to our friend the candidate, you will make an especial appeal for votes by sympathizing with the man with patches on his garments? No, he responded with a knowing wink. I shall make a feint strike by voicing my undying sympathy with the man who can't get their clothes patched."

Parasol Sleeve.

It is in the realm of the tailor made that the spirit of change has been most active in the way of sleeves. Some of the latest innovations can hardly be termed artistic, notably the sleeve which commences neatly in the center of the back giving the back breadth of the coat a narrowing appearance which almost amounts to deformity.

Quite in opposition to this is the little umbrella sleeve of which instead of springing from an immense umbel like the better known type of manche has quite a narrow beginning and widens at the elbow to the circumference of a yard and a half.

This is covered from the top to the hem with a tiny frills of lace, recalling in a quaint manner the trimming on the minute hinged parasol of the crinoline days.

Newspaper at Lhasa.

The first newspaper ever printed in the Tibetan language has been started at Lhasa. Its title in translation will mean the Tibet Times. Since the visit of the English expeditions the grand lama has been busily engaged in reforms some of which include lecture and reading rooms where the people can be educated in the geography, history and industrial conditions of Tibet. The Tibetan government considers that the ignorance of the people constitutes a hindrance to carrying out the reorganization of the administration.

The Lady and the Dimple.

She must have it. It makes for youthfulness. There's also a sparkle about it. Some reckless ones go in for three. In Paris your chin is dimpled while you wait. A mere slit and the cutting of a muscle and there you are. A certain chamber recently slipped and a sharp stone cut her chin. She feared she'd be disfigured for life. When the wound had healed she found herself with the cutest dimple.

Dogs Size of Rats.

If there should be a further boom in the toy dog pet craze the Western Australia desert should prove a small El Dorado. In the course of an expedition to look for a practical stock route between the northern pastoral lands and the central gold fields a party found large numbers of a tiny animal of the dog tribe no bigger than a rat. The natives eat it greedily.

Scranton Sammy—No use talking but I got to do something to change my personal appearance—I'm being mistook for Roosevelt too often for comfort lately.

Hooster Hank (faintly)—Well, uv all de vain vanity! How'd yer git dat hallucination?

Scranton Sammie—How do youse account fer me bein' run off railway trains four times bein' invited ter chop wood on five different occasions an' once asked if a bull dog could bite de bone through de calf uv de leg all durin' de last week?

If taken patiently and persistently will relieve the most obstinate cases of indigestion, constipation, bad blood, bad liver no matter how long standing. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.

SCIENTISTS STUDY BUTTERMILK.

German Experts Agree That It Postpones Bodily Decay.

From the Chicago News
Berlin—German medical circles are discussing the investigations made by Dr. Ludwig Reinhardt, the noted Austrian hygienist, of the theory that curdled sour milk prepared under certain conditions is not only a sovereign cure for digestive maladies, but a veritable elixir of life. Prof. Hermann Strauss of the University of Berlin and Prof. Metchnikoff, the noted French bacteriologist, who attended the recent hygienic congress here, are among those who deem the subject of importance. Prof. Metchnikoff's investigations along this same line are well known.

Dr. Reinhardt declares that the use of milk which, after being slowly heated to a certain temperature, is allowed to become thick and sour will prolong life materially if taken regularly. He instances the fact that many Bulgarians who use this food though dwelling under the most unsanitary conditions live beyond 100 years.

It is a fact, said Prof. Metchnikoff, before leaving for Paris recently, that the Bulgarians reach a high average age and that among them there is a large percentage of centenarians. This is doubtless ascribable in part to their habitual use of the soured milk preparation, which contains a large number of bacteria.

Among those I have succeeded in isolating one bacillus which is especially effective in cleansing the system from impurities. I believe that a future time is likely to see the use of a beverage in this form become widespread.

Prof. Strauss also asserts that milk curdled after the Bulgarian fashion has a wholesome influence in postponing bodily decay, the beneficial microorganisms therein destroying the microbes which increase the susceptibility to disease.

All Good Citizens Will Accept Situation and Boost With a Will.

It is well that the public settle down to the fact that the new state capital is to be named by a Haskell crew.

And it behooves every loyal Oklahoman to make up his mind to lend a helping hand at every opportunity and turn in the upbuilding and growth of the Nonpareil state.

Governor Haskell is a man of wonderful executive ability and, with his business experience he has in him the attributes of one who can give to Oklahoma a good and wise government.

This the State Capital believes and so long as he and his followers give evidence of the fair deal in handling state affairs this paper will applaud and in every way possible lend the helping hand.

The time for bickering and strife has passed—

We will soon be citizens of one of the great states of the union. The change from territory to state has been in the past history of such events a great leap but not so will it be with Oklahoma.

Today Oklahoma has a greater population than the census gives to twenty-three states of the union.

Her splendid cities, magnificent railroad system, great agricultural industry, inexhaustible wealth of earth's rich treasures and in fact all that which goes to make up a great state place Oklahoma—

At once—
Among the important states of the Union.

This is no idle boast. It is stern reality.

And being such no citizen possessed of pride equal to the occasion will longer indulge in complaint or useless criticism.

We should from this time henceforth be as one man—

With one idea as a nucleus from which to work.

And that one idea should be—
Oklahoma and Oklahoma's upbuilding—Guthrie State Capital.

From the tone of the State Capital three weeks ago one would scarcely expect to find such sentiments expressed in that paper at so early a day and before the smoke had been blown away.

We welcome the strong evidence of returning sanity in the State Capital and sincerely trust it will, from now on, set the example for the policy indicated in the above editorial—Muskogee Times Democrat.

Leisure Not Pleasant.

Lord Brampton, formerly the famous criminal judge, Sir Henry Hawkins the man who presided over the famous Tichbourne case and who later tried and sentenced Mrs. Maybrick, was very severe on the bench and was known among criminals as 'the hanging judge.' He probably donned the fearful black cap more than any man of his time. He has just retired on a pension at the age of 90 years. He says of his old age: "There are very few compensations in old age. Leisure is not pleasant. It kills me with regret that I am no longer able to take active part in the life of the world."

Defenders of Switzerland.

It is not only the people who want to see the country to study the military and political situation but the Swiss people are proud of their country and will fight to maintain it on its points. But we have much to learn from the little republic. Says the United States Journal: "From the age of 10 all boys go through a compulsory physical and military training. At the age of 16 and after this age, if four years they have to take up rifle shooting in addition to gymnastic training. Every Swiss from his 20th to his 40th year is liable to military training. Every useful work is accomplished in Switzerland by the clubs, which are encouraged by the state for the purpose of improving manhood. The population is under 3,500,000 yet there are 3,500 such associations with over 200,000 members. On this basis we should have over 2,500,000 members of rifle clubs instead of only 60,000."

The Styrian Cigarette Lighter.

For lighting their cigarettes the natives of Styria use a kind of cigarette lighter. A strip of brown paper is cut into strips, each strip is rolled into a small slip and is placed in a match head. About 100,000 are imported each year.

An Improved Eye.

It is expected to supper that night. And the girl with dimities was set on the sideboard a dish of beautiful fruit. The promise of more to come. A wee little girl came tiptoeing in, looked around with admiring eyes, and seeing the fruit she could not resist. Just an apple, then off with her prize. But she soon returned and in her hand. Was the apple unbiten and tied? No! Indeed again Mr. Satan! You shant have me. But I wanted it awn! she said. —James Steven Heyward.

State Boards Begin Review of Election Results---Find Some Returns Missing and Adjourn for Consultation.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 8.—In the presence of legal representatives of both political parties the board to review the vote on the constitution and the prohibition amendment canvassed the returns from forty-five of the seventy-five counties today. Judge Clayton of McAlester as chairman when Mcintosh was reached adjourned for a consultation with Chief Justice Burford and Secretary Wilson other members of the board over the absence of returns from eleven precincts in seven of the counties reviewed. They were two in Adair, three in Creek and two in Harper and in each in Haskell, Kiowa, LeFlore and Nowata counties. As the vote of the board is not yet decided on the would be accepted in the future, the vote cast. Only in one instance that of a LeFlore county precinct where no election was held on Sept. 2, did the county clerk explain why the vote of a precinct was missing from the records. That the board understood it possesses authority to demand the votes of all precincts day that he would ask the board to recommend a general congressional investigation of the alleged frauds in all counties where charged and that he is prepared to furnish ample evidence as to their existence.

As far as the canvass has gone the constitution shows a majority greater than was expected. There were approximately 145,000 votes cast in the forty-five counties about 100,000 of which were for the document.

State Chairman Thompson of the democratic committee states that about 240,000 votes were cast and that the constitution will show a majority of about 100,000 and 100,000.

The vote shows the constitution to have received the closest call in LeFlore county which contains the territorial capital. The majority here being 1,133. Of the counties reviewed Caddo furnished 108 majority which is the largest. Caddo is next with 2,900.

The prohibition vote is running on an even basis in the counties of Craig (Vinita) Custer (Ardmore) Cord (Lehigh)

Touching the M. O. & G.
Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 9.—C. D. Hamilton has resigned the position of general superintendent of the Oklahoma Central to take charge of the construction work on the Missouri Oklahoma & Gulf which is building southward from Muskogee toward Sherman, Tex. Seven steam shovels are being used in the construction. It is stated that the company building the road will complete and operate it for seven years, and then turn it over to the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific. President William Kenneke of the M. O. & G. recently returned from England where he disposed of the road's bonds.

SALOON MEN MAY FIGHT.

Persistent Rumor Says Injunction Route Will Be Tried.

There is a reliable rumor to the effect that the liquor men of Oklahoma will not tamely submit to the abolition of their business by the passage of the prohibition ordinance at the recent election.

There is a probability that they will try to secure an injunction against the enforcement of prohibition when statehood is proclaimed.

As evidence of this scheme directly after the election it is said the brewers refused to send extensive shipments into Oklahoma, whereas now they are soliciting trade, and leading saloon men are letting drop intimations that they may continue in business longer than the public expects. It is well known that liquor interests have profited by seeking the injunction route. For example in Grayson county, Texas, when local option first carried, by means of injunction pending.

enforcement of the law was postponed nearly a year.

It is said this plan of the liquor interests has no designs against the state constitution but simply attacks the prohibition ordinance.

not shown in the official reports and to determine what course it should pursue was given as the reason for the abrupt adjournment in the midst of the count. Should the board go to the limits of its power it is expected that certification of the vote on the constitution might be delayed for ten days or two weeks if not longer. A decision will be announced tomorrow.

The board to canvass returns on the state and district tickets organized but got no farther than the arrangements. As Secretary Wilson is a member of each the sessions were alternated to day but unless a conclusion adverse to the present program is reached by the first board the constitution and prohibition canvass can be completed in two hours time. It is intimated tonight that the abstracts from Muskogee and Okmulgee counties, where various irregularities are alleged by republicans will be challenged when they are reached in each canvass.

Charles E. Hunter, chairman of the republican state committee, stated to-

Johnson (Tishomingo) Latimer (Willburton) Logan (Guthrie) and Creek (Sapulpa) gave majorities against prohibition.

Watching the work of both canvassing boards for the democratic committee are W. A. Ledbetter of Ardmore, J. F. King of Newkirk and State Chairman Thompson. For the republican committee are Judge T. N. Robnett of Ardmore, James Cottingham of Guthrie and State Chairman Hunter.

Miss Case Critically Ill.

Mrs. Richard Herndon this morning received a message from Corsicana, Tex. saying her sister, Miss Gertrude Case lies dangerously ill having been prostrated with fever several days. Miss Case formerly taught music in Ada where she made many friends who will be grieved to learn of her critical illness.

Five of Gollmar Bros. employees made Ada today rebelling the town for their big circus on Oct. 14.

Akron Tourists Took Long Trip.

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch
Uniontown Pa.—On a record trip of 11,000 miles by automobile which is nearing completion F. W. Work and J. C. Maxson of Akron O. arrived here early Saturday morning and left after breakfast for Hagerstown Md. on their way to New York in a 25 horse power automobile. Leaving New York June 20 they traveled via Chicago, Denver and Salt Lake City to San Francisco reaching there August 1. On August 20 they left San Francisco and went through Southern California, New Mexico and Arizona and to the Grand Canyon then to St. Louis, Illinois. Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Pennsylvania. They expect to reach Akron about October 1.

They have traveled over roads where automobiles had never before penetrated and sections where the inhabitants had never seen or heard of the big red devils. Although they found bad roads in the Rocky mountain states the worst encountered were in Southern Kentucky.

Clock Made of Straw.

An extraordinary addition has been made to the exhibition of inventions now being held in Berlin. A shoemaker named Wegner living in Strasburg sent in a clock of the grandfather shape nearly six feet high made entirely of straw. The wheels, pointers, case and every detail are exclusively of straw. Wegner has taken fifteen years to construct this strange piece of mechanism. It keeps perfect time. A Berlin report says:

"And no doubt we say to our friend the candidate, you will make an especial appeal for votes by sympathizing with the man with patches on his garments?" No, he responded with a knowing wink. I shall make a ten strike by voting my undying sympathy with the man who can't get their clothes patched.

Parasol Sleeve.

It is in the realm of the tailor made that the spirit of change has been most active in the way of sleeves. Some of the latest innovations can hardly be termed artistic, notably the sleeve which commences merely in the center of the back giving the back breadth of the coat a narrowing appearance which almost amounts to deformity. Quite in opposition to this is the little umbrella sleeve of which instead of springing from an immense umbelike like the better known type of sleeve, it is quite a narrow beginning and widens at the elbow to the circumference of a yard and a half. This is covered from the top to the hem with a tiny frills of lace recalling in a quaint manner the trimming on the minute hinged parasol of the ornoline days.

Newspaper at Lhasa.

The first newspaper ever printed in the Tibetan language has been started at Lhasa. Its title in translation will mean the Tibet Times. Since the visit of the English expeditions the grand lama has been busily engaged in reforms some of which include lecture and reading rooms where the people can be educated in the geography, history and industrial conditions of Tibet. The Tibetan government considers that the ignorance of the people constitutes a hindrance to carrying out the reorganization of the administration.

The Lady and the Dimple.

She must have it. It makes for youthfulness. There's also a sparkle about it. Some reckless ones go in for three in Paris your chin is dimpled while you wait. A mere slit and the cutting of a muscle and there you are. A certain chamei recently slipped and a sharp stone cut her chin. She feared she'd be disfigured for life. When the wound had healed she found herself with the cutest dimple.

Dogs Size of Rats.

If there should be a further boom in the toy dog pet craze the Western Australia desert should prove a small El Dorado. In the course of an expedition to look for a practical stock route between the northern pastoral lands and the central gold fields a party found large numbers of a tiny animal of the dog tribe no bigger than a rat. The natives eat it greedily.

Scranton Sammy.—No use talking. I got to do something to change my personal appearance—I'm being mistook for Roosevelt too often for comfort lately.

Hoosier Hank (faintly).—Well, all de vain vanity! How'd yer git dat hallucination?

Scranton Sammy.—How do you account for me being run off railway trains four times being invited to chop wood on five different occasions, an once asked if a bull dog could bite de bone through de calf uv de leg all durin de last week?

If taken patiently and persistently will relieve the most obstinate cases of indigestion, constipation, bad blood, bad liver, no matter how long standing. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents Tea or Tablets.

German Experts Agree That It Pospone Bodily Decay.

From the Chicago News
Berlin.—German medical circles are discussing the investigations made by Dr. Ludwig Reinhardt, the noted Austrian hygienist, of the theory that curdled sou milk prepared under certain conditions is not only a sovereign cure for digestive maladies but a veritable elixir of life. Prof. Hermann Strauss of the University of Berlin and Prof. Metchnikoff, the noted French bacteriologist, who attended the recent hygienic congress here, are among those who deem the subject of importance. Prof. Metchnikoff's investigations along this same line are well known.

Dr. Reinhardt declares that the use of milk which, after being slowly heated to a certain temperature is allowed to become thick and sou will prolong life materially. It is taken regularly. He instances the fact that many Bulgarians who use this food though dwelling under the most unsanitary conditions live beyond 100 years.

It is a fact, said Prof. Metchnikoff before leaving for Paris recently, that the Bulgarians reach a high average age and that among them there is a large percentage of centenarians. This is doubtless ascribable in part to their habitual use of the soured milk preparation, which contains a large number of bacteria.

Among these I have succeeded in isolating one bacillus which is especially effective in cleansing the system from impurities. I believe that a future time is likely to see the use of a bacteria in this form become widespread.

Prof. Strauss also asserts that milk curdled after the Bulgarian fashion has a wholesome influence in postponing bodily decay, the beneficent microorganisms therein destroying the microbes which increase the susceptibility to disease.

All Good Citizens Will Accept Situation and Boost With a Will.

It is well that the public settle down to the fact that the new state of Oklahoma is to be manned by a Haskell crew.

And it behooves every loyal Oklahoman to make up his mind to lend a helping hand at every opportunity and turn in the upbuilding and growth of the Nonpareil state.

Governor Haskell is a man of wonderful executive ability and with his business experience he has in him the attributes of one who can give to Oklahoma a good and wise government.

This the State Capital believes and so long as he and his followers give evidence of the far deal in handling state affairs this paper will applaud and in every way possible lend the helping hand.

The time for buckering and strife has passed.

We will soon be citizens of one of the great states of the union. The change from territory to state has been in the past history of such events a great leap but not so will it be with Oklahoma.

Today Oklahoma has a greater population than the census gives to twenty-three states of the union.

Her splendid cities, magnificent railroad system, great agricultural industry, inexhaustible wealth of earth's rich treasures and in fact all that which goes to make up a great state place Oklahoma.

At once—Among the important states of the Union.

This is no idle boast. It is stern reality.

And being such no citizen possessed of pride equal to the occasion will longer indulge in complaint or useless criticism.

We should for this time henceforth be as one man.

With one idea as a nucleus from which to work.

And that one idea should be—Oklahoma and Oklahoma's upbuilding—Guthrie State Capital.

From the tone of the State Capital three weeks ago one would scarcely expect to find such sentiments expressed in that paper at so early a day and before the smoke had been blown away.

We welcome the strong evidence of returning sanity in the State Capital and sincerely trust it will from now on set the example for the policy indicated in the above editorial—Muskegon Times Democrat.

Leisure Not Pleasant.

Lord Brampton formerly the famous criminal judge Sir Henry Hawkins the man who presided over the famous Tichborne case and who later tried and sentenced Mrs. Maybrick was very severe on the bench and was known among criminals as the hanging judge. He probably donned the fearful black cap more than any man of his time. He has just retired on a pension at the age of 90 years. He says of his old age "There are very few compensations in old age. Leisure is not pleasant. It fills me with regret that I am no longer able to take active part in the life of the world."
